This principle requires the respect of relevant ethical principles, including those related to independence, as well as the planning and the execution of our work in order to obtain a limited assurance that the Sustainability Report is free from material misstatements. These procedures included inquiries, primarily with company's personnel responsible for the preparation of the information included in the Sustainability Report, documents analysis, recalculations and in other procedures in order to obtain evidences considered appropriate.

The procedures performed on the Sustainability Report were related to the compliance with the principles for defining report content and quality, as articulated in the "G4 Sustainability Reporting Guidelines", and are summarized below:

Conclusion

Based on our work, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the “Natural gas for decarbonisation - 2016 Sustainability Report” of Snam Group as of December 31, 2016 is not in compliance, in all material aspects, with the guidelines “G4 Sustainability Reporting Guidelines” issued in 2013 by the GRI - Global Reporting Initiative, as stated in the paragraph “Methodology Note” of the Sustainability Report.
